

Japanese Teacher Training Course

For those people interested in pursuing a career in Japanese language education, as well as for those educators already in teaching posts, relevant lessons in the form of workshops and occasional lectures are offered. Participants learn how to express themselves effectively in the classroom in order to teach students applicable Japanese. This course allows them the opportunity to understand what the role of Japanese teachers is along with actual hands-on-practice.