Beginner level

This course aims to develop the fundamental skills necessary for conversation about the students’ surroundings, using basic vocabulary and sentence patterns. Although the class emphasizes spoken conversation, students will also learn to read and write hiragana and katakana, and will study kanji characters that are necessary for their everyday life.

Intermediate level

This course will measure students’ knowledge of basic grammar patterns, add to their previous speaking and listening practice, cover reading comprehension of sentences with fairly difficult content, and develop a comprehensive, applied Japanese language ability for use in everyday life.

Advanced level

This course is intended for students with applied language ability who can read over 1000 kanji characters. Using newspaper and magazine articles as course materials, students will learn to grasp the content of relatively difficult Japanese and to express their own opinions.

Notes A student’s class level depends upon the result of the placement test. Classes will not be held on March 13, September 27, October 12 and national holidays.

Fees for textbooks and other materials are additional.

Once paid, tuition fees will under no circumstances be refunded.
